Headline:
Remaining changeable with showers or rain. Temperatures still below normal.

Today:
A cool and rather cloudy start to Tuesday. Some showers will develop during the morning, these becoming locally heavy and perhaps thundery early afternoon, especially over Lincolnshire. Feeling pleasant in any spells of sunshine. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers becoming confined to the Derbyshire hills, where rather cloudy, but becoming dry and largely clear elsewhere. Some light winds. A chance of showers in the south around dawn. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
Another day of sunny spells and showers, these slow-moving and occasionally heavy during the afternoon. Feeling pleasant in any spells of sunshine. Showers dying away during the evening. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Heavy rain clearing north then brightening up on Thursday, with heavy afternoon showers. Sunny spells and scattered showers on Friday and Saturday, locally heavy. Temperatures below average.
